THREE BOYS CONVICTED

Of the Crime of Larceny in the Superior Court.

THEY CIGGLE OVER THE SENTENCE

And Wink in Gleeful Anticipation of a Good Time to Come—One of Them Turned over to the County Agent—Other Court News.

It took the jury of the Superior Court a long time to decide the case of the young burglars, Michael Kuhn and John and James Howard, but they finally returned a verdict declaring them guilty of larceny of more than $25. The case of James Howard was referred to County Agent Hathaway and he will probably be sent to the State reform school until he is seventeen years of age. Kuhn and James Howard were sentenced to the Ionia house of correction for two years each. In imposing the sentence Judge Buttlngame commented upon the deplorable state of morals existing among the boys and young men of the city as evinced by the numerous cases of burglary and larceny tried at this term of the court. He said that the number of boys between 16 and 20 years of age who were engaged in such crimes is something to cause alarm and that it was necessary to make an example in order to check these evil propensities. He gave them advice which seemed to be wasted for after receiving their sentence they winked and giggled as if it was a great joke. Charlie Watt said "They're tough and glad of it. It will take some severe punishment to make them weary of crime."

PECULIAR CIVIL CASE.

A Discharged Farm Hand Seeks to Recover on a Salary Contract.

A peculiar civil case was on trial before Judge Grove in the circuit court yesterday. Morris Brooks hired out to a farmer named Philip P. Carlton the eight months. When the plowing season opened Brooks was instructed to plow a strip of land on the side of a hill. The soil was a combination of gravel, sand and stone. The circular knife attached to the plow wabbled and threw the earth all back into the trench so that it was impossible to tell whether a plow had been through the ground or not. The explicit direction of Mr. Carlton were that each furrow should be turned up hill. To accomplish this was a physical impossibility with Brooks. Because it was not done, however, the latter was discharged after he had worked three months, and he was paid $20.40 for his time. Brooks sues for his wages and Carlton says he did not pay him because he did not remain eight months. The case was recalled and taken under advisement by the judge.

Arraigned for Larceny.

Nick Metanna pilfered a pair of gold spectacles Saturday from the store of Joseph Kruse, No. 24 West Bridge street. He was arraigned yesterday on the charge of larceny to which he pleaded not guilty although the glasses were found upon his person when he was locked up. He has hopes of escaping on some legal technicality and will have a hearing October 29.

TENELSHOF GETS FIVE YEARS.

He Had Nothing to Say in Extenuation of His Crime.

Albert Tenelshof was taken before Judge Adair yesterday morning for sentence. His attorney was of the opinion that the sentence imposed would not be severe. The respondent had been cherishing a hope of this kind also, but was doomed to disappointment when the court told him to stand up and say why sentence should not be passed upon him. He did not reply. "I sentence you to five years at hard labor in the State prison at Jackson, unless sooner released by due process of law" sternly said the judge. The crestfallen youth was led away to his fate.

Trial of a Forger.

The case of the United States vs. Frank A. Rossford will be on call in the United States Court this morning. Rossford is a resident of Newaygo and is charged with drawing an old pension certificate signed by Congressman Kelly and presenting his name to a draft which he extracted from a letter addressed to the payee.

MARRIED FIN AND SPECK.

May Wyman Brings Herself and Husband to Grief.

May Wyman and her husband are again languishing in durance vile. Wyman was being treated for some ailment by Dr. George Smith, 60 Canal street, and his wife was waiting for him in the office. A scarf pin and pair of spectacles lying on a table caught her proved too much of a temptation and when she left the articles were concealed about her. Wyman put on airs with the pin stuck in his cravat and the glasses gave May a dignified appearance. Officer Jakeway brought the crime home to the pair and placed them under arrest.

Maud's Dire Dilemma.

Maud Wheeler, a one-eyed girl, seems fated to be deprived of all her earthly possessions. A short time ago some one stole her bicycle, and now Irene Dolling has absconded with her wardrobe including all her clothing except the dress on her back. Maud has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Irene.

BLAKENEY SENT TO JAIL.

He Will Stay Six Months Anyway and Perhaps a Year.

Although Reed Blakeney, the sheep thief, was charged with simple larceny, only the full extent of the law is meted out to him. Blakeney has cost this county an expense of something like $200. The able he attempted to prove did not work, the jury found him guilty. Judge Adair yesterday sentenced him six months in the county jail and $100 fine. In default of the payment of the fine he is to remain six months longer.

James P. Roe Arrested.

S. K. Boles & Co. began a suit by attachment in Justice Gedeon's court yesterday against James P. Roe. An attachment was served by Constable Marks on all the furniture and fixtures of the defendant's restaurant on Wallace township.

PERSUTION THE POET TAKES.

He Tells Captain Johnson of his Crime and Says he is Sorry he did it.

Abel Persution is a tall man, with side whiskers, which give him somewhat of a distinguished appearance. According to his own confession he is a chicken thief and makes a practice of picking up property wherever he finds it lying loose, providing it is not too heavy to carry away. He draws the line on red-hot stoves and electric trolly wires when charged. Lately he served four days in the county jail for stealing chickens from Mr. Robinson on Cherry street. He gave the details of his doings to Captain Johnson, and afterwards recanted that he had been so free with his tongue. He pleaded not guilty. A hearing was had and an adjournment taken until today. Ferguson had $42 in his possession when locked up.

EXTRAORDINARY AND UNIQUE.

Isabella O'Connor's Case Against Mr. Lamb Called for Trial.

The sensational and extraordinary case brought by Isabella O'Connor against Frank Lamb for damages on the grounds of seduction, has been called in the Circuit Court. The allegations made by the complainant are extremely unique, considering all the circumstances, and when the hearing of the case is finally begun it is quite probable that the evidence will be introduced in the presence of a large attendance.

Another Respite in Court.

James Bartholomew is a cripple who walks with crutches. He was arrested on the charge of assault with intent to commit rape. From two o'clock until nearly six he sat in the prisoners box yesterday in the police court awaiting his examination, but no attention was paid to him. He was finally escorted back to jail where he will be confined ten days longer before his case is heard. It being adjourned until October 29.

STOLE HORSES AND BUGGY.

A Daring Horsethief Takes a Rig From a Livery in this City.

A man who gave his name as J. W. Stetson, went to the livery barn of Mage Frost, on the West Side, Saturday afternoon, and rented a double rig, saying that he desired to drive to Grattan and return the same night. Nothing has been seen or heard of the man and outfit since that time. The horses and buggy were valued at $250. The matter has been put into the hands of the sheriff and Deputy Sheriff Dewey is investigating. He left last night for Ionia in search of the thief, of whom he has a good description.

Sent to the County Jail.

He was considerably bruised and badly shaken up and says no more knowing shots about the speed of electric cars.

LARGEST ON THE LAKES.

The Immense Dry Dock at Detroit Nearly Completed.

The commerce of the great lakes is constantly growing in importance and with the increase both in number and size of the vessels, comes the demand for new appliances for handling the service, repairing vessels and the placing of engines, boilers and other heavy machinery within them. For the past few years, the necessity of larger and better docking facilities for the great lakes has been very apparent, but the risk of construction and uncertainty of the business has kept many from the undertaking; the Detroit Dry Dock Company, however, about a year ago determined to build a dock, larger and finer than anything attempted on fresh water. And after almost a year spent in the construction we believe we have now just such a dock together, with every modern appliance to facilitate prompt and economical execution of all this class of work. It is situated in the city of Detroit, foot of Orleans-st., where the offices, saw-mill, engine, boiler, and general repair yards of the Detroit Dry Dock Company have been located during the past forty years. The new dock, together with its surroundings, has presented a very busy scene, with every thing being pushed to complete the undertaking as soon as possible.

A. J. Dupre, the well-known contractor and builder, carried out the work in its entirety, under the supervision of C. C. Parker, superintendent of the Orleans-st. yard.

The soil at this point is fine blue clay, which has enabled the work to progress without interruption from landslide or leakage of water. Two thousand piles have been driven in the dock, making it as strong as it is possible to be. Loaded ships carrying a cargo of 3000 tons can be safely docked, and those of the largest class of lake can be easily taken in.

The inside dimensions are 378 feet long, 91 feet wide on top, 78 feet opening at entrance, 54 feet opening on entire sill, 65 feet wide on floor, 21 feet 6 inches of water over keel blocks, 16 feet 6 inches of water over sill, 4 feet 6 inches from top of keel blocks to floor of dock, 20 feet 6 inches from water line to floor of dock.

The keel and bilge blocks are 5 feet from center to center, averaging 2 feet high, thus leaving plenty of room under a ship for the movements of workmen in making any necessary repairs to her bottom. There are two walls 12 feet deep situated at each end of the dock, with cranes above them for hoisting out and replacing wheels, etc. The caisson gate which, when closed, shuts off the ingress or egress of water, is of steel, constructed at the company's steel ship building plant, at Wyandotte, Mich. It is 72 feet beam, 79 feet 5 inches long, with five 80 inch valves for flooding the dock, which it is estimated it will do in twenty minutes. Time required to pump the dock out is 1 1-2 hours. The whole dock is surrounded with a paddling well filled with blue clay 5 feet thick, and extending down below the old river bed, which completely shuts off all water from leaking through the sides.

The Hon. Julius C. Burrows will speak at Hartman's hall tonight.

Competitive Bible Class.

The Grand Rapids Gun club is taking steps for the organization of a rifle club which will be a branch of the original club. There are many gentlemen who are rifle enthusiasts but not enough to make the organization of an independent club as assured success. A meeting will be held Wednesday evening when all who are interested will be requested to attend.

Church Clear of Debt.

The Ames M. E. Church on South Division-st. is now out of debt. Presiding Elder Cogswell and Pastor Smith made a big effort Sunday to raise the money and they were so successful that $600 was contributed, being $100 more than the amount of the debt. This leaves a neat sum on hand for church improvements.

Economical Millinery.

The thrifty woman can color her ribbons, wings and feathers with Diamond Dyes, and thus saves the cost of new ones.

To complete their famous line of fast blacks, a new one has been added, fast black for silk and feathers. This is very simple and easy to use, and gives a handsome black on ostrich feathers, ribbons, and other millinery materials.

Garfield Tea is composed wholly of harmless herbs, hence its effects can never be injurious. Why, then take nause-ous pills, oils or cathartics that constipate?

Dimes Saves Dollars.

A new dress or suit costs from ten to fifty dollars. But Diamond Dyes will color the last season's clothes to look like new for a trifling sum.

There are forty kinds of these dyes, making any shade desired, but the fast blacks are especially serviceable at this season.

They make colors that will not fade or crock, and perfect, fast to washing with soap.
